Election Eve Red Thrust At Zone Expected

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP) — Some top U.S. military leaders in Saigon think North Viet Nam may time a new thrust across the demilitarized zone to coincide with elections next month in three countries fighting the Communists in South Viet Nam.

The objective could be to spur sentiment against the war in the United States, Australia and New Zealand.

The weather will be right for such a move. The monsoon rains already have started sweeping into the region where North and South Viet Nam meet.

Rainy, overcast weather is considered to favor the Communists because it cuts down U.S. air and helicopter operations.

After a period of heavy combat along the demilitarized zone, action has settled into sporadic contact and limited fighting.

American generals said the North Vietnamese apparently are trying to follow their customary practice of "preparing the battlefield" — stocking enough food and munitions close to the area to sustain a major effort.

"I think they're getting ready to give us a spin when the weather closes in," one senior Marine general said.

Bufo Begins Work

EAST LANSING (AP) — The executive manager of Michigan's new Law Enforcement Training Council, Noel Bufo, has started work at State Police Headquarters. Bufo, a native of Wyandotte, was a management consultant for the International Association of Chiefs of Police in Washington, D. C., when he was hired to head the new state program. The program is intended to train county, township village and municipal police.

Williams And Griffin Share Billing Tonight

By The Associated Press

Is G. Mennen Williams aiming to get the sportsmen's vote? The former Democratic governor plans to take a day off from his campaign for the Senate when he goes pheasant hunting Thursday near Selfridge Air Force Base in Macomb County.

Tonight, Williams and Sen. Robert P. Griffin, R-Mich., will appear together before a Jewish audience at Congregation Beth Shalom in the Detroit suburb of Oak Park.

Williams Tuesday was guest of honor at a reception held by W. Averill Harriman, ambassador-at-large, in New York City. The party was held to raise campaign funds.

Griffin, meanwhile, told Negro Baptist clergymen in Detroit that he has been portrayed by Williams as an "anti-labor" reactionary.

Knows Work

"I know what it's like to get grease on my hands and to work hard for a living," Griffin said.

He said he has been working since he was 12 years old, including an assembly line job at a plant in Pontiac.

"Now I've got to go around the state saying I'm not against the working man," Griffin said.

Gov. George Romney, speaking to the same groups of ministers as Griffin, pledged to seek a "total approach" to achieve equal rights.

"My primary effort will be to stimulate local action and private action" to help realize the "spirit as well as letter of laws on civil rights."

After spending the morning in Lansing, Romney tonight planned to speak at the 15th annual Boys' Day banquet in Detroit and to stop at a dinner for John Dempsey, a candidate for Congress in Dearborn.

Ferency In Detroit

Zolton Ferency, Romney's Democratic challenger, called the governor a "political opportunist" and said Romney and other Republicans are "trying desperately to run away from their party label."

He said he rarely sees the word "Republican" on billboards promoting GOP candidates in normally Democratic territory.

Ferency advertises his Democratic affiliation on all his campaign promotional material.

The Democratic state chairman planned to campaign for 13 hours today in the Detroit area, speaking to a variety of groups ranging from union members to junior chamber of commerce members.

Dies In Viet Nam

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Defense Department said Tuesday that Lance Cpl. Andre Chmiel, son of Mr. and Mrs. Benedict Chmiel of Utica, had been killed while in action with the Marines in the Viet Nam war.

During the boycott, only emergency patients were admitted to the 2,747-bed hospital, which officials say is the nation's largest public hospital. Maternity cases were sent elsewhere.

A hospital spokesman said Kresge, who retired as board chairman of the Kresge chain earlier this year, died of infirmities of age. He had been in the hospital since July.

Kresge, once a Pennsylvania Dutch farm boy, will be interred in a $75,000 mausoleum he had built two years ago outside nearby Kresgeville — a town named for the Kresge family.

A company spokesman said all 280 Kresge stores in the United States, Canada and Puerto Rico will be closed Friday when funeral services will be held from 2 p. m. to 3 p. m. at the Methodist church in Mountaintown, Pa.

Kresge's life was marked by frugality.

"I've never spent more than 30 cents a day for lunch in my life and it hasn't killed me," he once told a newsman.

As a philanthropist, the man who entered the dime store business with $3,000 and left it with more than $200 million contributed up to $88 million to his own foundation.

Kresge was born July 31, 1867, on a farm near Bald Mount, Pa.

House-Senate In Accord On Education Bill

WASHINGTON (AP) — Congress nudged most of its remaining major bills close to the point of final action today. Leaders said they remained confident the 1966 session would adjourn by Saturday.

Three priority bills were likely to be cleared to President Johnson during the day — a $1.75-billion antipoverty measure, a $1.26-billion demonstration cities bill and a packaging and labeling measure.

Congress has acted on appropriations totaling about $144 billion this year, including $13 billion for interest on the public debt.

The House planned to complete action today on the compromise antipoverty bill which passed the Senate in routine fashion Tuesday. It would authorize funds to continue the program a third year.

The House also scheduled a final vote on the demonstration cities bill which would inaugurate a program aimed at cleaning up blighted areas of selected cities. The Senate passed it Tuesday on a 39-22 roll call vote.

The Senate was expected to take up the compromise packaging measure which passed the House Monday.

The Senate Appropriations Committee was to vote on items in the final money bill of the session — a $4.52-billion supplemental measure carrying funds for many agencies. The House added a complication to the bill by voting to block President Johnson's proposal to allow the Export-Import Bank to finance commercial credits to Soviet bloc nations.

The administration was considered certain to try to get this killed in the Senate.

A Senate-House conference reached agreement Tuesday on two giant federal aid to education bills — a $6.1-billion elementary and high school measure and a $3.97-billion higher education bill.

Chicago Nurses End Boycott

CHICAGO (AP) — A compromise wage agreement with some 350 practical nurses at Cook County Hospital Tuesday night ended a two-day sick-call boycott.

The nurses were to report to work today.

Robert J. Mackie, executive director of the Cook County Nursing School, said terms of the agreement would not be made known until all the nurses involved are informed of the provisions.

The terms were agreed upon by officials of the nursing school and a committee representing the Licensed Practical Nurses Association.

Most of the nurses telephoned in sick on the morning shift Monday. All 346 reported sick by the midnight shift. Three nurses reported to work Tuesday, Mackie said.

During the boycott, only emergency patients were admitted to the 2,747-bed hospital, which officials say is the nation's largest public hospital. Maternity cases were sent elsewhere.

A hospital spokesman said Kresge, who retired as board chairman of the Kresge chain earlier this year, died of infirmities of age. He had been in the hospital since July.

Cabinet Resignations Hit Ky's Viet Regime

MRS. RHODA UNGER, 41, sits on the hood of her illegally parked car at Third Avenue and East 50th street in Manhattan after she found police trying to tow it away. She remained on the hood 2½ hours encouraged by a sidewalk crowd. She stayed on the hood until police pulled her off and booked her on charges of disorderly conduct and interfering with a policeman. Her car was then towed away—the same fate that many other cars have met since police stepped up a tow-away campaign in midtown Manhattan. (AP Wirephoto)

New Zealand Gives Johnsons Greeting

WELLINGTON, New Zealand (AP) — President Johnson got a colorful but restrained welcome to New Zealand today after leaving American soil 8,000 miles from Washington in exotic Paga-Paga, a South Seas beauty spot never before visited by a U.S. chief executive.

Johnson's crowd in this capital city of New Zealand was quite small by campaign standards, back home, numbering in the thousands. But the crowds were friendly and often enthusiastic.

For the President, the New Zealand stop represented an expression of friendship for a longtime U.S. ally and a return visit to a country where he spent some time as a Navy officer during World War II.

Page Paga, in American Samoa, afforded Johnson an opportunity to call attention to a tiny island that he regards as a showplace for what can be done to boost the fortunes of a poor and rather primitive people.

Colorful Stopover

By all odds, the Samoan stopover was the most colorful yet during the President's journey, which will take him to at least five more countries during the next 15 days.

The biggest crowd turned out Monday in Honolulu, where perhaps 200,000 people gave Johnson a warm greeting on his Asian "mission of peace."

Johnson's 10-hour stopover with allies in the Viet Nam war and discuss prospects for a prospering, peaceful Asia after the guns fall silent.

Along those showing up for the President's arrival motorcade in Wellington were several hundred critics of the war, waving placards expressing their dissent. At one point along the route they filled nearly a full block.

Watch Maori

With wife Lady Bird at his side, Johnson first set foot in New Zealand at the Ohakea air base 97 miles north of Wellington.

After watching a colorful Maori ceremony there the President and the First Lady flew to the capital with Prime Minister and Mrs. Keith Holyoake.

There were the customary airport speeches and later conviviality and a round of toasts at a dinner and reception given by the governor general, Sir Bernard Fergusson, and Lady Fergusson.

Thursday Johnson will lay a wreath at a war memorial, meet with opposition leader Norman Kirk, who would like to unseat Holyoake in the Nov. 28 parliamentary election, and appear on television with Holyoake.

US Calls Reds For Response To Bomb Halt

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) — The United States called on North Viet Nam Tuesday night to spell out what it would do if U. S. air attacks on the Communist state are called off.

U. S. Ambassador Arthur J. Goldberg posed the challenge in the closing minutes of the General Assembly's marathon policy debate which has centered on the war in Viet Nam.

Replying to Communist and nonaligned member states who have been calling for a halt in the bombing as an essential preliminary to any peace negotiations, Goldberg said:

"We have considered this advance and having considered it, we would like to know from Hanoi privately or publicly what would happen if we followed it."

Replying to Communist demands for a withdrawal of U. S. troops in Viet Nam, he said:

"We have said repeatedly that we do not seek a permanent military presence in Viet Nam and have offered to agree to a time schedule for supervised, phased withdrawal of all external forces — those of North Viet Nam as well as those of the United States."

Goldberg noted that the United States had made a commitment to a political solution of the Viet Nam issue and stands ready to enter into immediate talks whether they be formal or informal, public or private.

South Resolute

The dissident ministers, who said they put their resignations on Ky's desk this morning, included Deputy Premier Nguyen Luu Vien, and Finance Minister Au Truong Thanh, both members of South Viet Nam's delegation to the Manila meeting.

The crisis stems from resentment in the Cabinet against domination of the government by men from North Viet Nam who came south after the Communists took over in 1954.

Ky and most of the military men who hold the real power are northerners. Civilians in the Cabinet, including most of the southerners, have been confined largely to administrative roles.

Debate Marks
O'Brien Trial

LANSING (AP) — For the third day in a row, the morals trial of State Sen. Bernard F. O'Brien Jr., began today with an argument over whether the jury should be allowed to consider testimony of five female prosecution witnesses.

O'Brien, on trial in Lansing Township Justice Court on a charge of soliciting a Michigan State University coed to perform "lewd and - or immoral acts," faces cross examination from Ingham County Prosecutor Donald Reisig today.

Although O'Brien is charged only with coacting 22-year-old Marion Lukens, five other girls have testified he made similar approaches to them.

O'Brien's attorney, John O'Connell, contends the testimony of these five girls is irrelevant to the case and would tend to prejudice the jury against O'Brien.

Reisig, however, said Michigan law permits jury consideration of evidence which tends to show the "scheme, plan or system" of the defendant.

Justice George J. Hutter said he would study legal memoranda submitted by both attorneys and would decide the issue "in good course."

Following today's argument, Reisig resumed his attempt to shake the senator's testimony that he was in the Capitol Building last May 27 from 11 a. m. until after noon — the date and time miss Lukens claims he accosted her on the MSU campus about four miles away.

Dissidents End Manila Meeting Show Of Unity

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP) — South Viet Nam's on-again-off-again political crisis exploded again today as seven southern civilian Cabinet members insisted today that Premier Nguyen Cao Ky accept their resignations immediately.

Ky was said to have accepted the resignations but was reported trying to win three or four of the ministers back and to fill the other vacancies with new men.

The dissident ministers' action appeared to doom efforts by Ky to patch up a facade of unity for the Manila conference on Viet Nam next week. He was expected to minimize the significance of the crisis at the Manila meeting but he will be unable to hide the fact that South Viet Nam is still wracked by unresolved political pains.

"There have been many crises," Ky told newsmen earlier this week. "One more or less doesn't make any difference."

Fear Police State

But an announcement of the ministers' resignations, attributed to high government officials, also contained statements that could prove highly embarrassing to Ky at Manila and provide Communist North Viet Nam and the Viet Cong with propaganda fodder.

The ministers said they were concerned that South Viet Nam "is becoming a police state," that the military should "stop poking their noses into business they know nothing about," and that they had demanded "the government show some signs of accomplishing something to better the life of the people in general."

Water Controls In State Need Review: Romney

LANSING (AP) — Michigan's water management organization and responsibilities.

While the Democratic Legislature complains that Romney's recommended $2 million to aid local communities in building sewage control facilities is inadequate, Romney said, it represents 40 per cent of the federal outlay for the same purpose.

Michigan's first - year program topped federal expenditures by $800,000, he said.

Romney admitted that in view of the total needs, the amount the state is spending is inadequate, but added:

"Today in Michigan we have local projects totaling $45.6 million which are eligible for federal matching, but the federal government has not fully funded the program."

The state, he said, needs adequate funds to match federal efforts, money for planning and amendments to the Plat Act to insure that "land is not platted until adequate provision has been made for sewage disposal and water supply systems in the affected areas."

Romney added that he has asked the Bureau of the Budget to "give first priority to the possible reorganization of Michigan's water management organization and responsibilities."

Jury Selection Starts In Bast Case

The process of selecting a jury for the trial of Dr. Gilbert H. Bast began this morning in Circuit Court with Judge Bernard H. Davidson of Negaunee presiding in the Delta County Building.

Dr. Bast, 55, Escanaba chiropractor, is charged with three counts of statutory rape.

The charges have been consolidated for trial upon consent of Prosecuting Attorney Nicholas P. Chapekis and defense attorney Arthur Neiman of Escanaba. Jurors were instructed that separate verdicts will be required on all three cases.

There was no indication how long it would take to choose a jury or when testimony on the cases would begin.

Four persons called for jury duty were excused after questioning by Judge Davidson, Chapekis and Neiman.

The defendant, Dr. Bast, was seated between Neiman and Neiman's law partner, Robert Hancley, at the judge's right. Chapekis was joined at the opposing table by Escanaba Police Chief Harold Finman, who was identified by Judge Davidson as the complaining witness.

The three alleged victims in the case were seated behind Chapekis with their parents.

Dr. Bast was bound over to Circuit Court for trial by Municipal Judge James Fitzharris after preliminary hearing on the cases. The girls involved, two now 13 and one 16, were ages 12, 13 and 15 at the time of the alleged offenses last year.

Dr. Bast pleaded innocent to the charges when arraigned in Circuit Court in June. Trial of the case continued to the October term of court at the request of defense attorney Neiman.

The court was called to order by Sheriff C. A. Johnson at 9:30 a. m. A total of 66 persons drawn for jury duty were called by County Clerk William Davidson. Twelve will be selected to hear the case.

Judge Davidson emphasized that jurors must be impartial and judge the case solely on the merits of evidence presented in the courtroom.

The defendant, who has remained free on $5,000 bond since his arrest on the charges Friday, April 15, came to Escanaba in 1957 from Sault Ste. Marie. He resides at 1015 1st Ave. S., with offices at 805 Ludington St.

He is married and the father of seven children. His wife, Eleanor, was with him in court today.

Because of the nature of the case, Judge Davidson barred all persons under the age of 21 from the courtroom.

Public Can Aid Superior Study Of Lake Currents

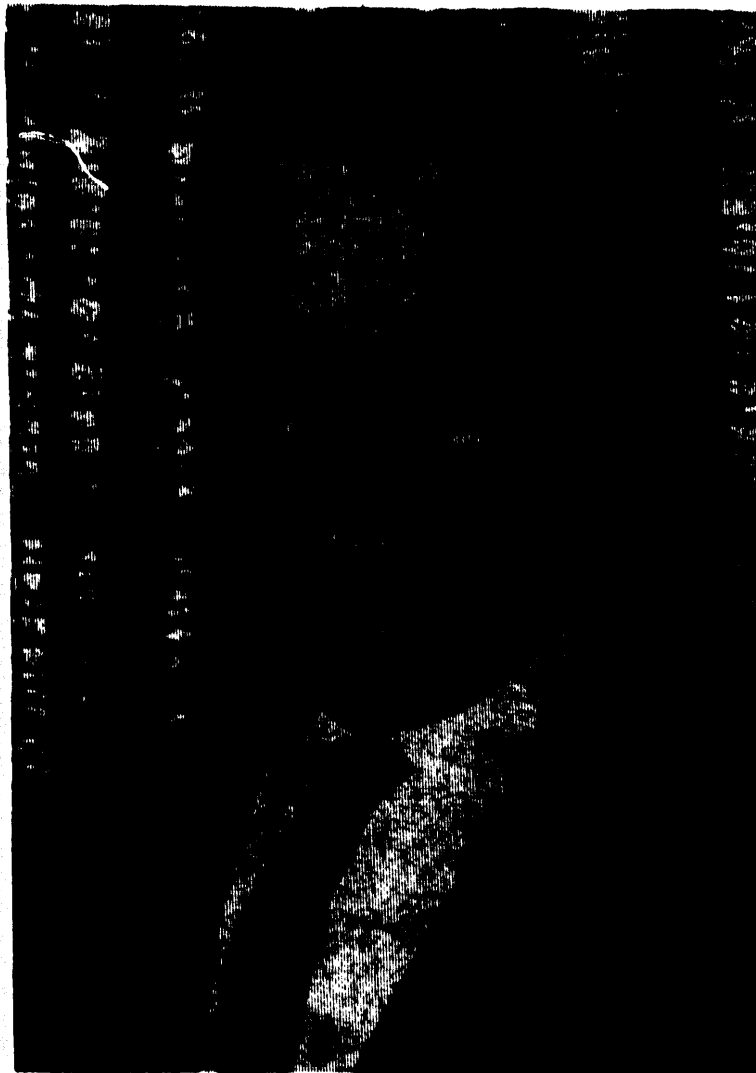

MARQUETTE—By keeping their eyes open for floating pop bottles, persons out for a stroll along the shores of Lake Superior will have an opportunity to assist with a research project being conducted at Northern Michigan University.

The project involves a study of Lake Superior's currents being done by Dr. Edward C. Monahan, NMU assistant professor of physics. It is part of a larger program of the study of whitecapping undertaken by Monahan under a research grant awarded him last year by the Navy.

The bottles, totaling 240, were set adrift earlier this month when Monahan traveled to Superior, Wis., aboard the Steamer Cadillac of the Cleveland Cliffs Iron Co. From four to 12 bottles were released at 31 points along the vessel's route.

They contain a brightly colored return post card and enough sand to make them float with just the tops of their necks out of water, and are sealed with a cork.

Five of the post cards have been returned to date. Two of the drift bottles were found by a Coast Guardsman stationed at the Manitou Island Light Station off the Keweenaw Peninsula in Upper Michigan.

Forget-Me-Not Sale Planned

October 21 and 22 has been selected as the dates for the annual Forget-Me-Not campaign of Escanaba Chapter No. 24 of the Disabled American Veterans, it was announced today. The Forget-Me-Not—small blue flowers of remembrance—will be offered by volunteers on street corners.

Escanaba Chapter No. 24 of the Disabled American Veterans said all contributions received for the flowers will be used in the Chapter's programs of assistance for the handicapped in this community.

"It's easy to show you remember and appreciate the sacrifices of these disabled men and women. The Forget-Me-Not you wear on Oct. 21 and 22 will show that you have not forgotten," said a DAV spokesman.

Headquarters for Escanaba will be the Advanced Electric store, 1211 Ludington St., and in Gladstone at Butch's Hardware, 817 Delta Avenue.

Mail Patrons Offered Help With ZIP Code

Beginning today, letter carriers throughout the Escanaba area will deliver two cards to every residence. Postmaster James E. Pryal reported.

Each card will have spaces for addresses the householder wishes ZIPPED.

After placing their uncoded addresses on the cards, preferably printed legibly, they may be dropped into any letter box or returned to their letter carrier. The Escanaba Post Office will add the appropriate ZIP Codes and return the cards to the mailer.

"No postage is needed," Pryal said.

The project is part of Postmaster General Lawrence F. O'Brien's program to make ZIP Codes more accessible to the mailing public.

In addition to the cards for addresses, a special notice advising each resident of his local ZIP Code number will be delivered.

In completing the cards, only the street address and city and state are required. Individual names should not be listed.

Postmaster Pryal emphasized the importance of including a return address on the front of the cards so they may be returned after addresses have been coded.

That Time Again

The Delta United Services kickoff breakfast appears to have gotten the annual fund drive—for $67,164 this year—off to a flying start.

The attendance didn't do it. The attendance was small—only about 60 of the 280 invited showed up—but the reaction seems to have triggered a groundswell of regret, disappointment, interest—activity. The leaders of the drive told of their disappointment about the poor turnout and they have been greeted everywhere since by pledges of cooperation. Now to implement it!

"This isn't Delta United Service's drive," Robert Barron, campaign chairman, said "it's a drive being conducted by the people of Delta County to raise the money needed for their favorite charities, health services and youth programs for the next year."

Barron said "Based on our receipts of $47,000 in Delta County last year—we thought that this was public approval—we enlarged our program to take in two additional agencies. We thought the public wanted them supported."

"These two new agencies are the USO and Michigan Children's Aid."

"Delta County has nearly 600 men serving in the armed forces and with a war on in Viet Nam we thought that we should take care of our boys away from home. We are already doing this in a big way with the Red Cross, which is the official government agency to maintain contact between servicemen and their families. But every serviceman will attest that the USO played a part in his life while he was in the service. It provides the wholesome social, welfare, religious and recreational activities that mean so much to morale of men in the military services."

"Michigan Children's Aid cares for neglected and dependent children through foster care, adoption, and other services. We have been getting this aid in Delta County and not contributing to it. Now we propose to pay some of the cost for services given to us right here at home."

The drive for funds for DUS will follow the same plan as last year. "We're encouraging people to pay through the year by quarterly giving," said Barron. "We'll be glad to send persons who make pledges a quarterly reminder if they desire it."

DUS now finances 11 services. They include the Red Cross Blood Bank, Bay Cliff Health Camp, Camp Fire Girls, U.P. Child Guidance Clinic, Boy Scouts, Girls Scouts, Salvation Army, John F. Kennedy School and Delta Family Services.

While the 1965 drive didn't meet its $63,000 goal—based on the approved budget requests of the member agencies—it was still as large an amount for charities, health and youth services as has ever been raised in Delta County.

The leaders of DUS hope to make their full quota this year. "I feel, as drive chairman," said Barron "that the community wants and needs these agencies. We'd all be much poorer here without them. A testimony to this belief is the amount of a service asked from these agencies by the public. As a native of Delta County I can't see our citizens not supporting the 500 volunteer workers who'll be working on this drive, asking for your help to finance all this fine work for all of us for a whole year."

Foot-In-Mouth Bit

By WASHINGTON STAFF

WASHINGTON (NEA) — For every "nonpolitical" trip President Johnson makes, there are about half a dozen "advance men" who scout the countryside ahead, rustling up crowds, making logistical arrangements and insuring that there are sufficient "Welcome, Mr. President" signs scattered along the route.

The easiest way to accomplish the latter task, one advance man reports, is to arrange a dance for local high school kids. Records are borrowed from a local radio station, local merchants kick in soft drinks and everybody makes up a couple of posters.

They are distributed simply by tacking them up on every tree, building or telephone pole along the President's route. The advance man, however, don't have time to check their handwriting, so goofs sometimes occur.

One which was not caught: Pasted up beside the side door of a store in Manchester, N. H., a "Welcome, Mr. President" placard appeared immediately above a sign reading, "Use other door."

One which was caught (in Kingston, R. I.): "Welcome, Mr. President. Thanks for fouling up our weekend."

Although it's not limited to the banks of the Potomac, foot-in-mouth disease can be a pretty serious ailment in official Washington, particularly for the newcomer.

The borderline between a harmless utterance and one which can produce serious repercussions is quite fine. Often one must wait for the morning newspapers to find out into which category his crack at the previous evening's embassy dinner falls.

Take Otto Graham, new coach of the Washington Redskins, for example. After being informed that President Johnson had seen the Baltimore Colts stamp his team, 35-0, in the season's first exhibition game, Graham quipped:

"He can stay home the next time."

This one didn't sit too well, and Graham apologized at a later press conference.

But, at a recent appearance before Washington's National Press Club, the coach showed he could produce a similar crack which definitely stayed on the "safe" side of the line.

Pointing out that he and the President's new son-in-law, Pat Nugent, both came from Waukegan, Ill., he quipped: "I was not invited to the wedding. After learning that LBJ saw us lose to the Colts, I know why."

All the public papers of U. S. presidents are regularly printed in attractive, neatly bound volumes.

Up to now it has worked out rather simply. A single volume, though of somewhat varying size, was adequate to cover one year's output of papers.

But LBJ has broken the pattern. His first year's printing, which included the five weeks of 1963 following John F. Kennedy's assassination, required two fat volumes.

Will busy 1965, covering the large outpourings of the Great Society, take three?

A newsmen who encountered Sen. Clifford Case, R-N. J., muttered apologetically that he probably wouldn't be covering the senator's reelection campaign this fall. "It looks too one-sided," he explained.

Case laughed and replied: "I don't consider a race one-sided until it's over and I've won."

Pontiac Police Vote To Strike

PONTIAC (AP) — Police officers in Pontiac have voted to strike in support of demands for higher pay. But Sgt. Herbert C. Conley, president of the Pontiac Police Officers Association, said that no strike date had been set.

Pontiac has 117 policemen. The association was to meet Tuesday with its attorneys. The officers are seeking a $1,000 a year pay boost and longevity benefits.

City officials say policemen should get more money, but say they don't have any to give them.

INVASION ON RIGHTS?

I feel that the proposed city ordinance covering the use of motorcycles in the city of Escanaba is an invasion on the rights of many of its citizens. I am in favor of the ordinance except for one section of it that says that "operation of any motor-driven cycle anywhere within the city limits of Escanaba between the hours of 11 p.m. (EST) and 6 a.m. (EST) is prohibited unless the person has received a written permit from the chief police officer of the city. Permits are to be granted only for going to and from work, where other transportation is not available."

I feel that this is a direct invasion on the rights of many citizens of the city of Escanaba and that the withdrawal of this proposal must take place. Any person has the right to go where he pleases when he pleases as long as he does not break any laws.

Many people have only one means of transportation and that is the motorcycle. How can you deny him this cherished right to ride at night if he does not break any laws or harm anyone. I will admit that there are some riders who make unnecessary noise with their motorcycles, but should all other motorcycle riders suffer because of what a minority has done. At night you will find many cars on the road and most of them have a destination in mind, and likewise you will find many motorcycles on the road and they too have a destination in mind.

If a person has a destination that he must reach and if he has only one means of transportation to get there how can you preclude him from using the only means at his disposal to reach that destination.

There are already laws in the books that control noisy motorcycles. The police officers may issue tickets for excessive noise and disturbing the peace.

I feel that the people who made complaints to the police department are mostly prejudiced in that they think that motorcycles make such disturbing sounds. I think that you will agree that a law mower makes just as much noise as a motorcycle. Don't think that lawn mowers don't bother anyone during the day because there are a lot of people who work at night and have to sleep during the day.

If you compared the amount of noise that many imported cars make with that of most motorcycles you would find that the motorcycles aren't so bad after all. A motorcycle has a unique sound and most people can easily distinguish its sound from that of a car. Then they say "There goes another one of those darn motorcycles."

I feel that if they pass this ordinance then they will have to get rid of the stock car races which make so much noise, although I hope that they never do that!

They will have to get rid of similar loud, night noises because in order for an ordinance to be impartial it must not severely restrict the rights of one group while allowing another very similar group to go around unrestricted.

Citizens, think this over for soon some of your cherished rights may fall by the roadside.

five forced dummy's ace. South took three club tricks and led a diamond whereupon West rose with his ace and set South with three spade tricks."

Oswald: "If South had started after diamonds instead of clubs he would have breezed home with the hand but the minor suit play at trick two was an absolute toss-up. The play at trick one was just an error."

Jim: "If South had recognized the unusual duck situation and let East hold that first trick he would have had no further problems. He would win the second spade and knock out either minor suit ace with safety. The only thing that could hurt him would be if West held both aces but in that case the chances are that West would have opened the bidding as dealer."

Remember 'Bagga' that get acquainted foolishness in the 'Freckles' comic which appears in the D. P.? Well, it seems Escanaba junior high school students thought 'Bagga' was quite the stuff and began a little 'Bagga' campaign all their own. They wrote "Have You Tried Bagga?" on classroom blackboards, behind maps and what-have-you so the large chalk letters burst into view as the maps were raised. The teachers, however, ruled that students responsible would be credited with large zeros for their work.

Lesson Is Everyone Should Have A Will

Dear Ann Landers: May I say a word to "Amazed Mother" whose child was mistreated by the dentist?

I agree that a dentist should not slap a child, but as a dental assistant for 14 years I can understand how a man can lose control of himself. Some of our child patients are impossible.

It is the mother's responsibility to educate and condition her child so he will know what to expect when he visits the dentist. The best method is for the mother to take the child to the dentist when she goes for her appointment. The child will then see that there is nothing to fear. The dental equipment will not look so monstrous and terrifying when his time comes.

A great deal to do is made these days about preparing children psychologically for a visit to the hospital or the physician's office, but nobody thinks about preparing the child psychologically for the dental chair. I hope you'll print this letter. — MISS C.

Dear Miss: Thank you for a letter my readers can really sink their teeth into. (Ouch!)

With the tremendous improvement in techniques and equipment these past 15 years, most of the agonies of the dental chair have been eliminated or sharply reduced. And now it is up to the mothers, as you said in your letter, to prepare children for that first visit, an experience which can shape attitudes that may last a lifetime.

Dear Ann Landers: My mother passed away last week. After the funeral I went to her home to look over her things and divide them among my brother's wife, my aunts and myself.

I was shocked to find that my aunt who lived with mother had taken it upon herself to divide everything of value with my brother's wife and three other aunts. The fine china and silver, her fur coat, jewelry, the good pieces of art and the family heirlooms were gone. The only things left were worn out linens and a few pieces of costume jewelry. Their excuse was that I have a rich husband and I don't need anything.

It is true that my husband can buy me whatever I want, but I am heart sick to think that they would do this. I am an only daughter and I certainly deserved some consideration. Should I insist that these vultures bring back certain items? My husband says forget it. Unfortunately, Mother left no will. Please advise. — SAD DISAPPOINTED

Dear Sad: If you want to get tough about it you could get a lawyer into the act and exercise the legal right of next of kin. I do not recommend such action, however, because it's already so ugly that parading it before the community can only make it worse.

The lesson to be learned here is that everyone should have a will. It is the only insurance of orderly disposition of an estate.

Confidential to I CAN LAUGH: So can a hyena. The question is are you big enough to forgive this unfortunate girl and keep your mouth shut about the incident?

Are you at war with your parents? Do they have too much to say in your life? Send for Ann Landers' booklet, "Bugged By Parents? How To Get More Freedom." Send 50 cents in coin with your request and a long, stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of this newspaper enclosing a stamped self-addressed envelope.

Bulbs Burn Out Too Fast Claim House Members

WASHINGTON (AP) — A House subcommittee said Monday consumers are entitled to light bulbs with longer lives.

The Government Activities subcommittee, in a 60-page report entitled "The Short Life of the Electric Light Bulb," said bulb life is shorter today than a half century ago.

"Electric light bulbs burn out too fast," the subcommittee concluded after a two-year study. It urged the government to require that all bulb manufacturers...

Rep. Jack B. Brooks, D-Tex., the subcommittee chairman, said: "The lives of bulbs from 10 to 50 watts can be substantially increased, in some instances, more than doubled, at a net savings to consumers. Bulb life of the 60, 75, and 100 watt sizes can be doubled in the case of most consumers at a cost of not more than two and one half per cent of the consumer's total lighting costs."

"To the average consumer, this cost increase in additional electricity would be less than a nickel a year for every 60, 75, and 100 watt bulb used in the home."

Brooks said the government is saving an estimated $2 million annually as a result of the subcommittee's study.

In New York, D.D. Scraff, vice president and general manager of the General Electric Lamp Division, said, "We firmly believe the present design lives of our light bulb give the best customer value and have seen no new material that would lead us to think otherwise."

Level Is Falling On Great Lakes

DETROIT (AP) — Levels of the Great Lakes, though higher than last year, are in the process of falling below their averages of the last 10 years, the U.S. Lake Survey said today.

But at no time between now and next March will any of the lakes drop near a record low level, said the Lake Survey, a division of the Army Corps of Engineers.

Levels of the lakes are important to shoreline property owners and to shippers and boaters.

Lakes Michigan, Huron and Erie already have declined slightly below their averages of the last 10 years, the agency said.

Lake Superior is expected to ease below the 10-year average sometime this month.

Lake Ontario is expected to decline past its 10-year average sometime next January.

And Lake St. Clair, now slightly below its 10-year average, is expected to waver around the average until next February.

The Lake Survey said Lakes Michigan and Huron, whose levels are the same because they are joined by the Straits of Mackinac, stood at a mean level of 577.35 feet in September, about six inches higher than September 1965.

Lake Superior's mean level in September was 600.92 feet, about four inches above that for September 1965.

Lake Ontario was at 244.66 feet last month, about five inches above its mean level in the same month of 1965.

Peru Temblor's Toll Is 101 Dead

CALLAO, Peru (AP) — It took nature only 55 seconds to strike the Peruvian port of Callao a blow from which it won't recover for years.

At 4:42 p.m. Monday, Callao was bustling with the activity that goes with being Peru's major seaport and the maritime gateway to Lima, seven miles to the east.

By 4:53, the shock wave from a massive earthquake a few miles offshore had struck the city with unbelievable force and 32 persons were dead or dying. Most were children crushed when roofs of the makeshift huts in the slums known as barriadas collapsed.

More than 70 persons were hospitalized. Another 250 had minor injuries.

Glass, plaster and walls of buildings tumbled into the streets or collapsed inward, trapping some residents.

Life was returning to normal today. But the cracks in the buildings remained, foretelling widespread demolition that will be necessary as the damage is catalogued.

The quake was Peru's most savage in years. By unofficial count, 101 were killed and 1,000 injured, but casualty reports were incomplete. The U.S. Embassy in Lima said no Americans were among the killed or injured.

Speaking of National Business Women's Week, Deanna feels very keenly that "all women should have some kind of training after graduating from high school. In this age of specialization, this training may very well be utilized when the children are grown or when a woman is called upon to support herself in later years if necessary."

Cost Of Automobiles Probed

Price Changes Reviewed

By CHARLES C. CAIN
DETROIT (AP) — One of the auto industry's proudest boasts is that it held the basic price line pretty well on its new cars since 1959.

The claim was challenged by disbelievers who noted the price tags of their new cars had moved upward, particularly in the last two years.

Federal officials currently are making a study of the auto companies' recently announced price increases on their 1967 models.

The government inquiry is aimed at the industry claim that new safety features on 1967 cars were responsible for a major share of the price boost.

General Motors figured its new cars had gone up an average of $54 this time. Chrysler was up an average of $68, Ford $66 and American Motors.

Virtually everyone in the auto industry agreed that figuring out comparative prices of a particular model through the years was like doing a mammoth jig saw puzzle.

Pricing Complicated

The pricing picture was complicated by the fact that through the years the various auto divisions had made optional items standard, or perhaps made a standard item optional.

That called for some readjustment of price stickers as announced through the years.

An Associated Press study of the price histories of three of the industry's basic cars since 1959 model showed they had gone up an average of $147, or 5.4 per cent over a nine-year period.

Chosen for the test were three V-4, 2-door hardtops—the Chevrolet Impala, Ford Galaxie and Plymouth Fury.

The Impala, for example, had a $2,707 price tag in its 1959 model. Six years later, in the 1965 model, the price had gone up $87.

Price Argument

The 1966 model introduction time touched off one of the hottest arguments as to whether prices had gone up. The fact was that the federal government, as an incentive for business, had trimmed the auto excise tax from 10 to 7 per cent a couple of months before the 1966's hit dealer showrooms.

Customers saved some money on the federal tax level that year but that also marked the auto industry's first mandatory safety package at a consumer cost that averaged out to about $70 and just about cancelled out the tax cut.

Thus the consumer got a tax break in one hand a bigger safety bill in the other.

There appeared to be no reason for doubting the industry's twin contention that its cars had been made safer through the years and that the cars' guarantees against defects had been increased.

Boasts Nominal

The industry's 1967 price announcements marked the first time in nearly a decade that they said without qualification that car prices had gone up.

Auto firms expressed belief their boosts were nominal—particularly for Ford and Chrysler cut their originally announced price increases considerably—and there was some indication that either a congressional committee or the Bureau of Labor Statistics might ask the industry soon to explain why prices were upped.

Here are the comparative prices of 2-door, V-4 hardtops:

Chevrolet
Impala
1959 $2,717
1960 $2,704
1961 $2,704
1962 $2,776
1963 $2,774
1964 $2,775
1965 $2,785
1966 $2,789
1967 $2,845

Ford
Galaxie
1959 $2,707
1960 $2,723
1961 $2,715
1962 $2,783
1963 $2,783
1964 $2,754
1965 $2,784
1966 $2,791
1967 $2,861

Average increase for model over nine years Ford $154; Plymouth $158; Chevrolet $128.

Some of the key reasons for price changes through the years included:

—Ford Galaxie:

1961—went to 12 months or 12,000 mile warranty as it broke the industry's old warranty line of 90 days or 4,000 miles.

1962—Introduced 6,000 mile oil change idea and 30,000 mile oil filter. Heater which had been $75 option was made standard.

1963—car warranty went to 24 months or 24,000 miles. Crankcase vent at $5.70 was made standard.

1966 Federal excise tax cut from 10 per cent to 7 per cent. $67.90 safety package was made standard. It included padded instrument panel, sun visors, backup lights, 4-way flasher, outside rear view mirror, windshield washers and rear seat belts.

1967—Power train warranty hiked to 5 years or 50,000 miles. Additional safety package including dual brakes, collapsible steering column and more interior safety items was made standard.

—Plymouth:

1961—alternator replaced generator as standard equipment.

1963—$5.05 crankcase vent was made standard. $13.50 padded instrument panel, formerly option, was made standard.

1964—Front seat belts standard.

1965—heater which had been $74.40 option was made standard. Wheelbase upped from 116 to 119 inches.

1966—price was adjusted for excise tax cut and for addition of a mandatory safety package.

1967—warranty was increased (other auto makers did the same) to cover nonpower train items for 24 months or 24,000 miles. Basic industry 1967 safety package was made standard.

—Chevrolet:

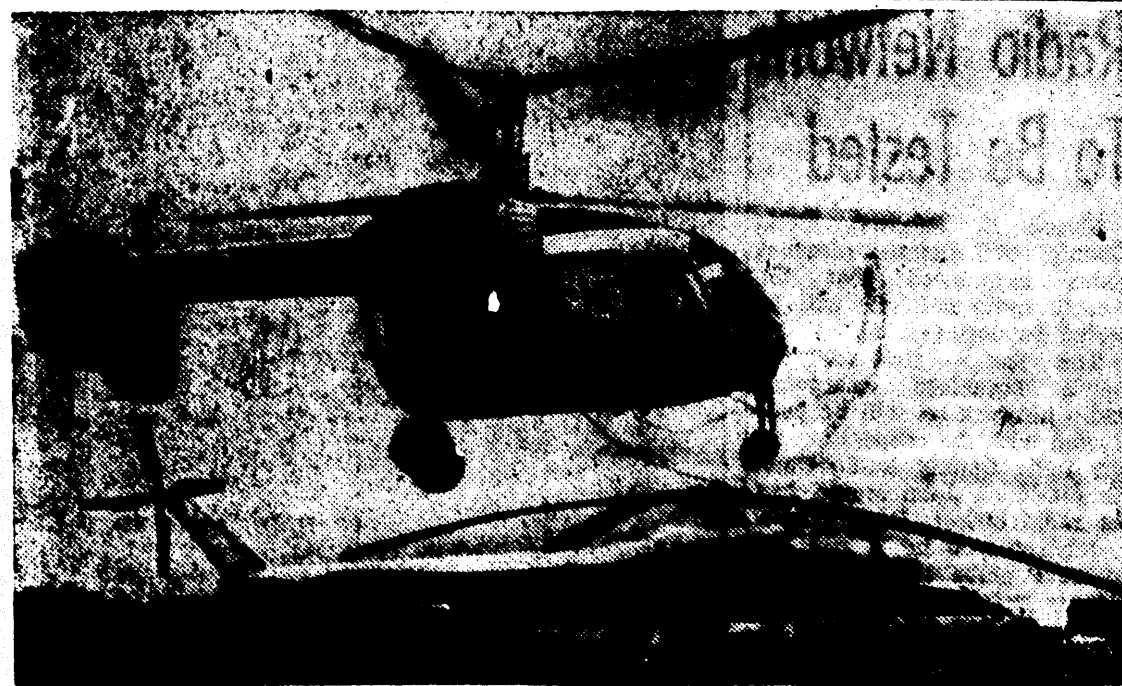

1960—oil filter added as standard equipment.

1962—heater which had been $74 option was made standard. Wheelbase down from 118 to 116 inches.

1965—front seat belts made standard, car up $10.

1966—effects of auto excise tax cut virtually offset by addition of a safety package similar to that of Ford and Chrysler.

1967—safety package termed responsible for most of $56 increase in the Impala cost. Warranty on power train and non power train items hiked.

Shopping Center Zone Reviewed

There was much discussion but no formal acceptance Tuesday evening by the Escanaba Planning Commission of a proposed ordinance for the new commercial area expected to be established on S. 23rd St. at 14th Ave. S.

The Planning Commission met in the City Hall from 4:30 to 7:15 p. m., largely to review and recommend modification of the proposed commercial ordinance. There was no action taken by the Commission.

This means the proposed ordinance will come to the City Council on Thursday night without a formal acceptance or rejection by the Commission. However, the suggestions of the Commission will be incorporated in the revised proposed ordinance and this will be submitted to the Council, said City Manager George Harvey.

The modifications centered largely on controls relating to the development of the shopping center area, but factors of major importance are unchanged, said Harvey. For example, the area remains limited to 10 acres.

The proposed ordinance had been prepared for the city by its planning consultants, Harland, Bartholomew & Associates.

The request for the change in zoning from residential to commercial for a shopping center on the west side of S. 23rd St. at 14th Ave. S. was brought to the Council by the Walch Development Co. of Escanaba.

Originally the request was for rezoning of about 40 acres (a parcel of land on each side of S. 23rd St.) and this was later reduced to 18.3 acres on the west side of S. 23rd St. The Planning Commission recommended rezoning 18.3 acres but the City Council cut the acreage down to 10.

The planning consultants had warned that a large shopping center development would damage the central business district and the plans for improvement and expansion there.

Should the Council give first reading to the ordinance Thursday night, public hearings on the proposed changes could be held on Nov. 17.

"The Council by resolution is on record for a 10-acre zoning change on 23rd St. and 14th Ave. S. Therefore, the couple of weeks delay on this ordinance change will have no effect on the petitioner (Walch) because he knows the 10 acres have been agreed to and this is what he will have to base his plans upon," City Manager Harvey said.

The Planning Commission Tuesday night approved architectural and site plans for the proposed harborfront building at Ludington Park.

Hospital Owner Arraigned On Drug Charges

MOUNT CLEMENS (AP) — Dr. Sanford Stone, owner of Fairwood General Hospital in Warren, and five hospital employees were arraigned Tuesday on charges of violating state medical laws.

Police sought eight other persons on similar charge.

Stone posted $1,000 bond after he was arraigned before Justice Edmund Schmidt of Harrison Township on a charge of aiding and abetting violation of the state narcotics law in November 1965 and thereafter. The charge, a felony, is punishable by up to $10,000 fine and 10 years in prison.

Stone stood mute and posted $200 bond on a charge of unprofessional conduct in lending his name to an illegal practitioner of medicine on Dec. 1, 1965. Conviction carries a penalty of up to $250 fine and three months' imprisonment.

Stone appeared for arraignment after Macomb County sheriff's deputies arrested two doctors and three other employees at the hospital.

Also appearing for arraignment were Dr. Benjamin Drobalski of Oak Park, Dr. Augustin Mercado Ruiz of Center Line, both charged with practicing medicine without a Michigan license; Fred Bowen of Riverview and William Lanier, both hospital employees and similarly charged, and Margaret C. Privette of Royal Oak, charged with practicing nursing without a license.

All five stood mute Tuesday and each was released on $200 bond.

Radio Network To Be Tested

Mason E. Johnson, Delta County Civil Defense director, today announced that the county radio network will be tested Sunday, Oct. 23.

The test — first for the newly organized emergency radio network — will be conducted with the cooperation by the Delta County Radio Club, its president, John Moras, and its radio officer, Rene Marco.

Johnson said he is gratified to have clubs like the Delta County radio club who volunteer services for citizens of Delta County.

"This should prove that we can be ready for any disaster, whether it be natural or nuclear," he said.

Johnson also announced that three Civil Defense education classes for Delta County residents have been scheduled during the first and second weeks of November. A class for instructors was held last month under the direction of William Burrell Jr., Houghton, state coordinator of the Civil Defense education program.

A second class for instructors has been tentatively scheduled for early next year, Johnson said.

S. Vietnamese Mauled By Cong In Mekong Delta

SAIGON South Viet Nam (AP) — Communist forces badly mauled South Vietnamese troops in a Mekong Delta battle today as seven Cabinet resignations shook the government in Saigon.

About 1,300 government troops were locked in heavy but inconclusive fighting against an estimated 1,000 Viet Cong 105 miles southwest of Saigon. Viet Cong gunners shot down four U.S. Army Huey helicopters and damaged 30 in the early stages of the battle, which started Tuesday.

Elsewhere, the general lull persisted in ground fighting.

For the fourth straight day, monsoon rainstorms cut heavily into U.S. air blows over North Viet Nam Tuesday and American pilots flew only 44 bombing missions, about a quarter of the recent daily average.

War Of Nerves Grips Mid-East

DAMASCUS, Syria (AP) — The Syrian government began recruiting civilians for a volunteer defense army against Israel today as the Middle East's new war of nerves tightened.

"Following recent aggressive threats by Israel we call upon the citizens to volunteer to carry arms in a popular defense army which will share with the regular armed forces the honor of defending Syria against any aggression," Damascus radio said Tuesday night in a series of broadcasts.

It said 20 recruiting centers would open in the capital today. Tension continued high along the Syrian-Israeli border, scene of a series of incidents in the past two weeks. In New York the U.N. Security Council was debating an Israeli charge that Syria is trying to incite a new Arab war against Israel.

Despite supervision by a U.N. Mixed Armistice Commission, the boundary between the two countries has been the scene of increasing air, ground and sea incidents during the last year. Both sides accuse the other of aggression.

Israel blames the Palestinian terrorist organization Asala for many of the attacks and charges it is supported by the Syrian government.

On July 14, Israeli planes attacked a Syrian post in retaliation for repeated Asala attacks. A subsequent Syrian request for a Security Council resolution condemning Israel for the attack failed by three votes.

Syrian jets and Israeli patrol boats clashed in a brief battle in the Sea of Galilee Aug. 15. After several communications both sides agreed to a cease-fire.

Scores of lesser incidents have been reported in the past 12 months.

Israel went to the Security Council last week after an anti-tank mine laid by Arab infiltrators killed four Israeli border policemen Oct. 8. Israeli charged Syria is openly inciting other Arab states to make war on her by sending guerrillas into Israeli territory on missions of murder and sabotage.

The 12-nation Arab bloc countered with a charge that Israel was trying to use the council to create a suitable atmosphere for aggression against Syria.

Churchmen Ask For Action

Fear Mental Health Delay

Delta County's decision on a mental health program today had a "go ahead" signal on the legality of its proposal to go it alone rather than join Marquette and Alger counties in a district program.

But coupled with the report that such a proposal was legally proper was the report that it faced very serious problems of any implementation in the near future. The inference was that Delta, if it persists in providing its own mental health program, will be tardy in getting it started and may face continuing problems of staffing its clinic.

Rev. Fr. David LeLivre, director of Catholic Social Services for the Diocese of Marquette, and Rev. Paul Lindstrom, in charge of Lutheran Welfare Services in the Upper Peninsula, both of Marquette, were scheduled to visit Escanaba today to confer with public officials on Delta's plans for mental health services. They have been concerned, said Father LeLivre, by the Delta Board of Supervisors action in rejecting the three-county mental health services.

Lamb Statement — Howard Lamb, field officer for the Michigan Mental Health Department, which administers Act 54, the state's mental health program, said in Escanaba Tuesday:

"The problem is one of funding the program in an area of this size with a tax base and population base like Delta's."

"A second difficulty is recruiting staff for a district small in size and with a narrow tax base. Recruitment is easier in a larger population district because many professional people want to get into the private practice sector of psychiatry or psychology or social work. To bring them in requires a base of sufficient size.

"Nevertheless Delta County is going to have the right to apply under Act 54 if this is what it wants to do. The act provides that it can."

Realistically, what will happen if it does? Lamb was asked.

He said that Delta supervisors talk of aid from Menominee County, which is under Act 54, and of getting aid from Dickinson-Iron Mental Health District, which is also under Act 54.

Problems of Staff — "But Dickinson-Iron is having recruiting problems and their program is decreasing servicewise," said Lamb "because they haven't been able to maintain staff, although they have 42,000 population, which is more than Delta has."

"The Menominee program hasn't gotten off the ground although Menominee has 25,000 population and Marinette has 35,000."

"We (Marquette-Alger) have been told that if we renegotiate the program for Marquette and Alger (with Delta left out) it will take from 9 months to a year — and we're not certain they'll accept the new program. We've been told also by the Lansing office that there is no point in our requesting Act 54 funds until we have made an effort to renegotiate for the federal funding for Marquette and Alger."

"This we are forced to do now. In other words the state is saying: 'Why should we spend state money when you can get federal money? And anyway, we don't have it.'"

"Act 54 Boards asked $8 million this year and the state has $3 million. Obviously it isn't enough."

Social Security Raise Given Up

WASHINGTON (AP) — Chances for a quick increase in Social Security benefits died today when the House Ways and Means Committee gave up efforts to draw a bill for enactment by the present Congress.

However, Chairman Wilbur D. Mills, D-Ark., told newsmen Social Security will be the first item of business for the committee when the new Congress convenes in January.

Mills also said it would be possible for the committee to make the effective date of any increased benefits retroactive to Jan. 1, 1967, although he did not say this would necessarily be done.

The committee had before it two proposals for Social Security benefit increases effective on that date, a year earlier than the effective date suggested by President Johnson for extensive overhaul and liberalization of the system.

Forest Fires

Five forest fires were reported in the Upper Peninsula in the week ending Oct. 15. Two were in the Escanaba District burning 0.2 acre. A total of 401 fires have burned 2,404 acres in the U. P. to date. Last year at this time 210 fires had burned 362 acres.

ALBANY, N.Y. (AP)—Sheriff Richard Weller of Grand Traverse County and James Hadley, state boating control administrator, represented Michigan today in a conference with New York State officials on water safety. The officials discussed boating laws and enforcement.

Foggy Night Aids As Dozen Escape To West Germany

MUNICH, Germany (AP) — Two couples with their six children and a grandmother have engineered a family escape from Communist East Germany. Bavarian police reported today.

The children are aged 1 to 12 years. The two youngest were given sleeping tablets and carried across the border into West Germany in rucksacks on the backs of their fathers, police said.

The escape, on a foggy night, was made by crawling across a minefield "death strip" on planks of wood. As the families came to the end of one plank, a second was gently pushed forward to probe for any mines. They then crawled on. After the minefield the fathers cut their way through a barbed wire barrier.

"The good Lord was with us, the fences were not electrified," said one of the fathers.

Police also reported the escape today of a 32-year-old Czechoslovakian army officer who had been on duty along the border between East and West Germany.

Power Control Center Planned

DETROIT (AP) — Detroit Edison Co. and Consumers Power Co. said Tuesday they plan to establish a Michigan Electric Power Pool Control Center to centralize generation and control of 10 million kilowatts of power.

The center will be located in Scio Township, just west of Ann Arbor and is expected to be in service by mid-1969, the firms said.

Each company will continue to be responsible for the electric service policy in the area it serves, they added.

The center is designed to achieve the lowest possible production and investment expense, provide emergency power supply in case of equipment failure and facilitate further integration of the statewide electric transmission network, the firms said.

Road Opened

FLINT (AP)—The first section of the Flint-Port Huron Freeway, a 6.2-mile segment, was to open for traffic today, allowing through traffic on M 21 to bypass Port Huron streets. The section cost $5.6 million.

The Tembys Suggest:

Retire The Travel Way!

By J. L. TEMBY
Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Temby of Escanaba are now touring the West in the first year of their retirement. "Our advice: Save your nickels and dimes for an Airstream and look forward to a wonderful retirement," they suggest. The following report is addressed from Lone Pine, Calif.

This is a wonderful way of life. After exactly three months and 4,802 miles of travel we are more convinced than ever. We never dreamed that two retired persons could be so busy.

We have been fortunate to see some of the most magnificent scenery of the West under most ideal weather conditions. We arrived here early this afternoon after a 290 mile run from Fresno, Calif., where we visited friends we had not seen for 25 years.

After crossing Tehachapi Pass — over the southern end of the Sierra Nevada — we dropped down into the valley and skirted the east side of the Range. The type of scenery was something different for us — desert land with tall cactus sparsely scattered along the wasteland. As we neared Lone Pine (pop. 1,410) the tall mountains loomed higher and higher with the climax being Mt. Whitney, the highest mountain in the continental United States with an elevation of 14,495 feet.

This is to be our "jumping off" place for Death Valley, probably on Friday if it is not too hot.

great rollers that were never quiet.

Magnificent Parks

I got my limit of razor clams on the first try although at first I hardly knew what I was looking for. But with a bit of advice from the "natives" I soon learned. I made a batch of clam chowder which I thought was very good but my co-pilot and navigator was not quite as enthused. But she really went for the first and only salmon I ever caught — just a six pound Chinook, caught in the Pacific out from the mouth of the Columbia River.

Each week we moved south to a different State Park — the limit of stay is one week. The parks are full every day and there is a waiting line, starting before 8 a. m. We learned to arrive early and never had to wait over an hour for space.

The Oregon State Parks are the finest in the nation and a big bargain at $1.50 per night with all "hookups," that is — electricity, water and sewer connections.

Escanaba, Delta County and the State of Michigan could learn a lot about trailer parks from the State of Oregon. We hope Escanaba gets busy at once on good trailer parks — it brings a lot of business to the city in which they are located.

Dry Yosemite

We left the Coast at Reedsport — with regrets — and went on to Crater Lake National Park by way of Eugene. Set high in the shattered crest of Mount Mazama — the mountain which blew its top — is one of the world's most beautiful lakes — our first view of the Pacific at Ft. Stevens State Park and to say we were thrilled is putting it mildly. How we enjoyed the sunshine, sand beaches and the abruptly 500 to as high as 2,000 feet above the water.

There are several hikes from the Rim Drive — we took a couple of the easy ones and got some wonderful views of the Lake and pictures too, of course.

The weather was wonderful for the first three days and then it turned bad — snow and a low of 23 degrees. It got so miserable that it finally drove us out and down to a lower elevation — Klamath Falls. From there we entered California for the first time and as we proceeded south we encountered 90 plus temperatures.

Our greatest disappointment was the lack of water in the famous falls at Yosemite National Park. In fact, Yosemite Falls was dry for the first time in years. We would like to go back again before June when, we were told, the rivers and falls are really roaring.

The Giant Trees

The timber around our Airstream was magnificent — mostly redwoods or giant sequoias — some of them five or more feet in diameter at the base and towering 100 feet into the sky. While Glacier Point was only about one mile from our trailer as the crow flies, it is 32 miles by road. But the drive is a "must." The views of Yosemite Valley from the Point are magnificent.

We took another side trip to the Mariposa Grove of Giant Sequoias which took our breath away. Our first view of these great redwoods will never fade from our memory — one we photographed was 34.9 feet in diameter at the base. Some of them are estimated to be from 3,000 to 4,000 years old — the oldest living things on earth.

We have seen very few Michigan or Wisconsin cars during our stay in the Far West. But we have met a lot of wonderful people who, like ourselves, are trailering around beautiful USA. They are enjoying it and are deeply appreciative of the privilege as we are. Again, I repeat, it is a wonderful way of life.

Gustafson Art Show Opens

JOHN GUSTAFSON, artist and teacher, whose studios are in Gladstone, turns to nature for picture themes. He recently opened a one-man show in Battle Creek, where his work has met with approving recognition.

The Battle Creek Civic Art Center is holding a one-man show for John Gustafson, including 42 paintings in oil, watercolor and acrylic, and various pieces of pottery.

Gustafson is art instructor in the Escanaba Area Public Schools and resides in Gladstone. His show opened Sunday, Oct. 9, at Battle Creek and was well received. The attendance has been good and several of the paintings have been sold. The show will continue through November.

John was on hand Sunday to meet the viewers informally and to show slides and give a talk. The program was designed to depict the vast artistic nature of what we make effort to "see" what our eyes register for us, he said.

"We all see a thing or group of things exactly the same physically, but each of us interprets it differently—hence artistic interpretations of things and groups of things differ greatly," Gustafson explained.

Red Wings Give Roger Crozier Four-Year Pact

DETROIT (AP) — Roger Crozier, the Detroit Red Wings' third-year goalie, today signed a four-year contract, the longest in club history.

"I talked it over with Sid (Abel) and we felt that this was the best thing," Crozier said.

He said the Wings have given two-year contracts before, but never four.

The agreement includes a bonus clause covering what the 24-year-old Crozier will get based on his performance and the team's.

The Wings picked up Crozier in a trade in 1963. Two years ago he was Rookie of the Year in the NHL. Last year he was hurt in the Stanley Cup playoffs but won the Conn Smythe award as the most valuable player.

Crozier allowed 2.78 goals per game last season.

The contract will carry him through the 1970 seasons. Terms were not disclosed.

The Red Wings announced Tuesday that Norm Ullman and Paul Henderson signed contracts for the coming season.

Ullman, 30, has been the Wings' leading goal scorer for the past two seasons with a total of 73. Ullman will begin his 12th season with the Red Wings.

Plum Is Out For Season

DETROIT (AP) — With quarterback Milt Plum out for the season, "We'll start Karl Sweetan" against San Francisco Sunday, Detroit Lion Coach Harry Gilmer said Tuesday.

But the National Football League club plans to activate former Northwestern star Tommy Myers from the Pontiac Arrows of the semipro Midwest Football League, where he has thrown 10 touchdown passes in seven games.

That move, incidentally, will ruin a big "homecoming" game planned for Myers at Troy, Ohio, Sunday. Pontiac plays Dayton and the game had been moved to Troy so Myers could perform before the home folk in the stadium where he played high school football.

"I'll be sorry to miss that homecoming," said Myers Tuesday. "But I'll sure be glad to be back with the Lions. I think getting knocked around at Pontiac has helped me, at least it's better than riding the bench. But I'm sure looking forward to playing with Detroit again."

Plum was blitzed by Don Shinnick of the Colts at Baltimore Sunday and left the game. At first the injury to his left knee was diagnosed as a sprain, but Tuesday Gilmer was told Plum had a torn ligament.

"He'll probably be operated on later this week," said Gilmer.

The Lions took at 45-14 thumping from Baltimore. Plum had just thrown the first Lion touchdown pass when he was hurt.

Later, Sweetan, a Wake Forest product, tied an NFL record with a 99-yard scoring pass to Pat Studstill for the only other Lion score.

"Tommy has been working out with us all along, so he knows everything we've been going," Gilmer said.

"We'll definitely start Sweetan. We'll see how it goes as to whether we'll use Myers or not. Sweetan is a little more up to date and Myers is there to back him up," Gilmer said.

He said Sunday Sweetan "stood in there and threw the ball pretty good. There were two others in addition to the 99-yard pass that should have been caught."

Plum, in his 10th season as a pro, has had his troubles this year as the Lions have won two and lost four and shown little offensive spark. He has hit on 82 of 146 passes for 943 yards and four touchdowns, but has had 13 intercepted.

Sweetan, who previously played with the Pontiac Arrows and Toronto, edged Myers out of the Lion backup job this year.

Myers took Sweetan's old job at Pontiac and has led the Arrows to an undefeated season so far.

"A great game," said Coach Vince Lombardi. "The kind of a game Willie gives you every week."

Hockey Season Opens Tonight

By The Associated Press
The Chicago Black Hawks, led by 54-goal scorer Bobby Hull, invade New York and the Detroit Red Wings, sparked by 20-year wonder Gordie Howe, visit Boston as the National Hockey League — a year away from mass expansion — begins its 50th season tonight.

Tonight's openers — and the Montreal and Toronto sendoffs Saturday night — will be the last for the NHL as a six-team circuit. The league will be doubled next season with the formation of a second division, with franchises in Los Angeles, San Francisco-Oakland, Pittsburgh, Philadelphia, Minneapolis-St. Paul and St. Louis.

Hull, who scored his record-breaking 51st goal last season against the Rangers, may find the current New York club less vulnerable. The Rangers, who slipped into the league cellar in 1965-66, are bigger, hungrier — and "25 per cent improved," according to peppy Emil Francis, their general manager-coach.

Detroit's Howe, 38 years young and 624 goals rich, starts his 21st NHL campaign against the young Bruins, whose brightest prospect, defenseman Bobby Orr, was born during Gordie's third year in the league.

The Canadiens and Maple Leafs each open at home Saturday night. Montreal, entertaining the Bruins and Toronto taking on the Rangers.

DETROIT (AP) — "Gotta make'm interesting and bring the fans back," a tired Dave DeBusschere said after his Detroit Pistons had just nipped the Cincinnati Royals 114-112 in a National Basketball Association match.

"But really, I'd just as soon we walked away from them," he grinned.

The Pistons, playing their home opener in Cobo Arena, blew an 11-point lead in the final period and had to come from behind on points by veteran Ray Scott and rookie Dave Bing.

Cincinnati went ahead 110-108 in the dying minutes of the game, but Scott pulled the Pistons even with a field goal. Bing sank a free throw and Scott added a field goal and free throw to make it 114-110.

Oscar Robertson, Cincinnati's Big O, hit on a field goal, but the Pistons got the ball. Bing dribbled away the final seconds and Detroit won, 114-112.

It was the first victory for Detroit against one loss, a 103-99 defeat by the Royals in the NBA opener at Cincinnati Saturday.

Robertson led all scorers with 28 points. He was backed up by Harold Hargrove with 22 and Adrian Smith with 17.

Scott topped Detroit with 20 points. DeBusschere and Tom Van Arsdale scored 18 each and Eddie Miles chipped in 13. Bing had 12.

DETROIT (AP) — If Cassius Clay is looking for action after his fight with Cleveland Williams, the New York Knockers may have the man for him.

The Knicks unveiled the National Basketball Association's newest heavyweight contender Tuesday night when Willis Reed took on the whole Los Angeles Laker bench and won.

The Knicks came out on top, too, but by a somewhat closer margin than Reed. New York blew most of an 18-point lead and just held on for a 122-119 victory over the Lakers.

It was in the third quarter that Reed went after the Lakers. He was lined up next to Rudy LaRusso at the foul line as Elgin Baylor, who led all scorers with 31 points, attempted a free throw.

"He hit me in the head with an elbow," LaRusso said later. "After that I swung at him."

Reed admitted jostling with LaRusso as Baylor shot but said it was nothing more than what ordinarily goes on in the lane on free throws.

Both benches emptied and when things calmed down, Reed and LaRusso were ejected from the game. Laker rookie John Block had a broken nose and Los Angeles center Durrell Imhoff had a one stitch cut over his left eye.

Lost in the excitement of the Reed-LaRusso main event was the debut of the Knicks' $200,000 rookie, Cazzie Russell.

Still troubled by a sore ankle, Russell played only eight minutes and made one of four shots from the floor.

Someone asked the All-American from Michigan where he was when the fists began flying. "Right in the middle," Cazzie replied, "observing."

In other games Tuesday night, Chicago topped San Francisco 119-116 and Detroit edged Cincinnati 114-112.

MSU Shatters Big Ten Myth

CHICAGO (AP) — The Spartans of Michigan State are shattering the myth that Big Ten teams that can't return to the Rose Bowl fall apart because there is a lack of incentive to win.

Although the Spartans and Coach Duffy Daugherty dislike the idea of being knocked out of the nation's No. 1 team after an 11-0 victory over Ohio State, the turn of events could give the Spartans a tremendous psychological lift.

Cowh Jack Mollenkopf needs no pep talks this week when he takes his Purdue Boilermakers to East Lansing to face the second-ranked Spartans.

It's the biggest game of the year for Purdue and a victory would be a giant stride towards the Big Ten championship and the Rose Bowl bid.

If Michigan State was becoming ripe for an upset, the chances were lessened when Notre Dame, on the strength of a 32-0 triumph over North Carolina, replaced Michigan State as the top team in the nation.

"I always thought the object of the game was to win," Daugherty said Tuesday.

Daugherty didn't say so but he implied the voters didn't take into consideration that his Spartans came from behind like champions in the wind and rain to overpower a foe which had been pointing for Michigan State from the start of spring practice.

"Everyone we go up against seems to be pointing for us," said Daugherty. "I hope we're getting used to it. We know Purdue has momentum, incentive and balance. I hope we also have incentive and the boys play hard enough to win."

GLC Meeting Set For Nov. 3

The fall meeting of the Great Lakes Conference will be held at Munising Thursday, Nov. 3.

Coaches will select an all-conference team and the Great Lakes Conference trophy will be presented to this fall's football champion. Coaches will start their selections at 1 and the general meeting will begin at 2 p.m. at the Munising Conservation Club.

Scott topped Detroit with 20 points. DeBusschere and Tom Van Arsdale scored 18 each and Eddie Miles chipped in 13. Bing had 12.

DETROIT (AP) — If Cassius Clay is looking for action after his fight with Cleveland Williams, the New York Knockers may have the man for him.

The Knicks unveiled the National Basketball Association's newest heavyweight contender Tuesday night when Willis Reed took on the whole Los Angeles Laker bench and won.

The Knicks came out on top, too, but by a somewhat closer margin than Reed. New York blew most of an 18-point lead and just held on for a 122-119 victory over the Lakers.

It was in the third quarter that Reed went after the Lakers. He was lined up next to Rudy LaRusso at the foul line as Elgin Baylor, who led all scorers with 31 points, attempted a free throw.

"He hit me in the head with an elbow," LaRusso said later. "After that I swung at him."

Reed admitted jostling with LaRusso as Baylor shot but said it was nothing more than what ordinarily goes on in the lane on free throws.

Both benches emptied and when things calmed down, Reed and LaRusso were ejected from the game. Laker rookie John Block had a broken nose and Los Angeles center Durrell Imhoff had a one stitch cut over his left eye.

Lost in the excitement of the Reed-LaRusso main event was the debut of the Knicks' $200,000 rookie, Cazzie Russell.

Still troubled by a sore ankle, Russell played only eight minutes and made one of four shots from the floor.

Someone asked the All-American from Michigan where he was when the fists began flying. "Right in the middle," Cazzie replied, "observing."

In other games Tuesday night, Chicago topped San Francisco 119-116 and Detroit edged Cincinnati 114-112.

DETROIT (AP) — "Gotta make'm interesting and bring the fans back," a tired Dave DeBusschere said after his Detroit Pistons had just nipped the Cincinnati Royals 114-112 in a National Basketball Association match.

"But really, I'd just as soon we walked away from them," he grinned.

The Pistons, playing their home opener in Cobo Arena, blew an 11-point lead in the final period and had to come from behind on points by veteran Ray Scott and rookie Dave Bing.

Cincinnati went ahead 110-108 in the dying minutes of the game, but Scott pulled the Pistons even with a field goal. Bing sank a free throw and Scott added a field goal and free throw to make it 114-110.

Oscar Robertson, Cincinnati's Big O, hit on a field goal, but the Pistons got the ball. Bing dribbled away the final seconds and Detroit won, 114-112.

It was the first victory for Detroit against one loss, a 103-99 defeat by the Royals in the NBA opener at Cincinnati Saturday.

Robertson led all scorers with 28 points. He was backed up by Harold Hargrove with 22 and Adrian Smith with 17.

Scott topped Detroit with 20 points. DeBusschere and Tom Van Arsdale scored 18 each and Eddie Miles chipped in 13. Bing had 12.

THE WHITE HOUSE released this photo of Lt. Cmdr. Lyndon B. Johnson at New Guinea's Seven Mile Airdrome June 9, 1942 before a bombing mission. The young officer, now President of the United States, won a Silver Star for his part in the mission. The White House identified the two men with Johnson as Brig. Gen. Martin F. Scanlon, left, and Gen. Ralph Royce of the U.S. Air Force. (Gen. Royce, a U. P. native, was commander of the famed "Snow Birds" Air Force group which conducted winter maneuvers here in pre-war days.) Johnson plans a "sentimental journey" back to Australia and New Zealand next week. (AP Wirephoto)

Builder Permit Law Attacked

LANSING (AP) — The rough spots in Michigan's controversial new law regulating and licensing home builders and maintenance contractors will be smoothed out by the 1967 legislature, says a House spokesman.

The law—on the books since 1965 but in effect only since last Sept. 1—was attacked by Michigan's small contractors Tuesday.

The joint House-Senate Committee on Administrative Rules conducted a hearing on rules to implement the law, which requires bonds, licenses and Michigan residence of all such contractors.

The contractors, however, took the opportunity to let lawmakers and the state department of licensing and regulation know how much they disliked the law, devoting most time to it than to the rules governing its day-to-day operation.

Rep. William Copeland, D-Wyandotte, House chairman of the committee, said after the hearing that the committee would study the rules again—along with the recommendations of a commission of large and small contractors—to determine what changes might have to be made.

China is thought to be the original home of the peach tree.
